RA EXPERIENCE

Monika Nalepa’s Transitional Justice Lab, University of Chicago 2023
Searched for personnel and criminal transitional justice events in Ecuador and Dominican Republic during authoritarian periods
Examined trends in physical repression for democratizing countries pre-transition by building graphics in R with cross-sectional time-series data

Tom Ginsburg’s Comparative Constitutions Project, University of Chicago 2023
Read hundreds of national constitutions housed in the Comparative Constitutions Project to hand-code a global dataset of unamendable term limit provisions; generated descriptive statistics in R

Wesley Wehde, co-authored paper, East Tennessee State University 2022
Used Qualtrics to program a survey experiment estimating the effect of information regarding federal COVID-19 relief programs on social welfare attitudes. Used R to generate descriptive statistics, graphics, and calculate average treatment effects for manuscripts
